PUBLICATIONS

Books

Everyday Crimes: Social Violence and Civil Rights in Early America. New York: New York University Press, 2019. <https://nyupress.org/9781479869619/everyday-crimes/>

Enslaved and free African Americans, married women, and young servants and apprentices resisted the abuse of their masters and husbands, which transformed the hierarchy of early America. Examining their confrontations with violence reveals the rights and place of Indians, women, children, servants, and African Americans within the body politic, as well as their own conceptions of their citizenship and identity.

Regulating Passion: Sexuality and Patriarchal Rule in Massachusetts, 1700-1830. New York: Oxford University Press, 2014. <http://ukcatalogue.oup.com/product/9780199928422.do>

Regulating Passion examines the evolution of sexual regulation, sexual reputation, and patriarchy during the late colonial era through the early national era to expose the changes brought about by the American Revolution.
